Take Your Training To the Stars

An Oregon
Education Series

Virginia Broitman presents clicker training workshops around the country and is a faculty member of Karen Pryor Clicker Training Clicker Expo and was a contributing writer for Karen Pryor Academy for Animal Training and Behavior, Dog Trainer Program. Virginia also writes articles for a variety of training publications including the NADOI Fido Refined column on problem-solving and behavior, Clicker Journal, and KPCT on-line articles.

Virginia's own dogs participate in variety of activities including pet therapy visits, agility competitions, herding, television and advertising media.

Virginia is currently the head trainer at three prisons in the state of Virginia for SOS Pen Pals. This organization places shelter dogs with qualified inmates at prison facilities where they receive training and behavior modification before being adopted to the public. Virginia has also trained several assistance dogs for hearing, mobility and autism assistance.

Virginia co-produced the Bow Wow series of clicker training DVDs. These videos are the staples of the industry in providing clear, consistent examples of how to clicker train your dog. The How of Bow Wow was awarded the Dog Writers Association of America award for Best New Video in 2004.
